

Home Smart

The one organizer needed to manage any home and family project!

About

HomeSmart.com is a project management system for the home and family. It can help organize everything from day-to-day life to special home project renovations. As manager, you will be able to control who has access to what parts of the program and it will enable real-time notifications and communication between family members and even contractors who are working on your home. It is the ultimate to-do tracking and management list. From scheduling by the day to year it is designed to become your digital brain and sanity as all your activities and projects are located in one place. No more 100's of sticky notes all over the house. Now you will be able to know when Suzy has a softball game and when there, you can be in touch with your plumber to check on the progress of your whole-house filtration system installation.

Target Audience

HomeSmart.com is designed especially for the busy household. The purpose is to offer a full Project Management System that is easy to use, reliable and affords communication between family members as well as keeping track of any type of project around the house. With family member accounts, weekly emails will be sent out to the children with their lists of chores. From the single person to the huge family this app will keep you on time, on course and saying good-bye to stress!

Consistency

With a mobile app as well as the web application the user will always be in control of their household.

With the Smart Home Website:

- Visitors to the site will be able to join, creating their home account.
- Reviews of the site, random articles related to family and home improvement will be made available to them; as well, a digital tour will show them around all the functionality that comes with a membership.
- The mobile app will be available for download to their smartphones and tablets in both iOS and Android.

With the Mobile App:

- Users will be able to check the status on all projects and activities.
- Update notes, events, family, and contractor communications.
- Edit individual account settings

Member Benefits:

- Once they become a member they have access to the calendar, management software, email manager, and the notifications manager.

- They will be able to save project ideas, contractor information, and have the ability to scan business cards right into the app. As well as save web documents and images with the browser plug-in.
- They can save quotes, set up children and family accounts, make easy customizable to-do lists that auto-update and send out to each family member.
- They control access of all the sub-accounts and what each account can do within the program.
- Maintain one central calendar and run reports and lists off of it.
